JULIA COOK

Julia Cook was born and raised in Salt Lake City Utah. While living in Utah, she became actively involved in teaching children how to ski. That experience led to a love of teaching in general. Julia now lives in Fremont, Nebraska. She has a Master's degree in Elementary School Counseling. While serving as a school counselor, Julia often used children's books to enhance her classroom lessons. She is now well-recognized as a national award-winning children's book author and parenting expert. With over one million books in print, Julia has presented in over 800 schools across the country, regularly delivers keynote addresses at national education and counseling conferences, and has 57 published children's books. The goal behind all of Julia's books and efforts is to actively involve young people into her fun and creative stories and teach them to become life-long problem solvers. Inspirations for her books come from working with children and carefully listening to parents and teachers. Julia's books have been referenced in such publications as Parent's Magazine, The New Yorker, Green Child Magazine, Parenting Magazine, The Huffington Post, The Chicago Tribune, Yahoo.com, dr.laura.com and babyzone.com. She has also been featured on CNN's HLN News, The Daily Buzz, and several large metropolitan networks. She is the recipient of numerous book awards including The National Parenting Seal of Approval, Mom's Choice Award, and Association of Educational Publisher's – Distinguished Achievement Award. In her spare time, Julia enjoys spending time with her husband and family. www.juliacookonline.com
